

Professional Boundaries

Safeguarding ethics
in the justice system

Who is this workshop for?

This 5-hour workshop is for anyone who works with people who commit offences. This includes volunteers, non-government and government organisations. This workshop started in 2016 and has reached over 50 organisations.

What is covered?

Providing services and support to people who offend comes with specific considerations. This practical workshop covers the following:

- Definitions, research, codes of practice
- Moral codes
- Risk factors for boundary breaches
- Recognising boundary breaches and dealing with them
- The relationship scale
- Skills toolkit and go-to lines
- Strategies to set your boundaries

What cost is involved?

There is no cost involved to attend the workshop. A light lunch and refreshments are provided.

Who facilitates the workshop?

Katherine Ibbott developed this workshop in 2016 and has run over 50 sessions, reaching more than 40 organisations. A criminologist and with almost 20 years' experience working in the justice sector, Katherine is passionate about effective, ethical and best practice case work.

How do you register?

Register through the Onesimus website: Training | Onesimusfoundation

KATHERINE IBBOTT CONSULTING

For more information, please contact
Workshop Facilitator Katherine Ibbott:
Katherine.ibbott@dpac.tas.gov.au
0407 052 719

